More Tim McGinnis, Production

Superior Car Parts promised in the June newsletter some additional photos of its production head, Tim McGinnis. A Chicago native, McGinnis has been in the auto industry his entire life. At 15, he started racing on a local Illinois dirt track. A consistent winner, he was named Rookie of the Year. His racing career led him to Charlotte, NC, where he worked on the crew for NASCAR legend, Bobby Allison. As a fabricator and body man, the first car McGinnis built for Allison won the 1982 Daytona 500. McGinnis also was part of Allison's NASCAR team when Bobby won the 1983 Winston Cup Championship as well.
